The Coleman Canadians are asking for senior rating this year with a view to getting into Allan cup play-down. We cannot understand why the A.H.A. refused them senior entry last year when undoubtedly they were the best hockey unit in the province. A class of senior hockey last season was certainly very mediocre and we are positive the Coleman team, Western Canada intermediate titlists, would have been worthy Allan cup contenders. Here's hoping the Canadians will be granted the privilege to compete this year. - Lethbridge Herald.

CHRISTMAS CHEER

Representatives of the various lodges and organizations of the town met in the council chamber on Thursday night of last week and discussed the need of distributing Christmas cheer hampers through the medium of a central committee, as the need will again be apparently heavy this year.

Mayor Knight occupied the chair, and the outcome of the session was that the representatives put the proposition before their organizations, to convene again on December 6th, when they would be able to name their donation to this fund and submit names of families for hampers.

Before the meeting adjourned, J. Krikosky, junior, and J. R. McLeod were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the fund.

SCHOOL PUPILS WOULD STRIKE

Seems like they're all doing it! Following the suggestion made by the governor-general of Canada that today, Thursday, November 29th, might be observed as a national school holiday in honor of the marriage of the Duke of Kent, most of the schools in Canada were granted the holiday.

We understand that, as no word came from the local board or staff that Blairmore school was to be one of the great number to observe the event, quite a number of the kids decided among themselves that they should strike, and refused to appear at the school this morning. Most of the pupils, however, felt that the influence of proper education was more beneficial than that that might be offered outside.

Only recently, the local school observed a Russian event as a holiday and the school was in steps, refused a holiday on the Monday, following Armistice or Remembrance Day.

The regular meeting of Crow's Nest Chapter of the I.O.O.F. will be held at the home of Mrs. D. C. Drain on Monday night next, December 3rd, at 7.30. Important business.

LOCAL ELKS CELEBRATE TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Blairmore Lodge No. 15, B.P.O.E., observed their tenth anniversary in the lodge hall on Monday night, November 26th, in gala fashion, with their wives, sweethearts and a number of friends present to approximately one hundred. Members of the girls high school chorus and the orchestra, which so ably assisted in the Elks' revue of last year, were also present.

The evening started with progressive whist, the ladies running away with all prizes: ladies' first, Mrs. M. H. Congdon; consolation, Mrs. E. Archer; gent's first, Mrs. R. W. H. Pinkney; consolation, Miss Jean Upton, the latter two playing as gent's.

After whist a short program was carried out, during which the Elks' eleven o'clock service was given by Exalted Ruler J. R. McLeod, and a brief history of the lodge by J. F. Gillis, P.E.R. Those taking part in the musical end of the program were Miss L. Fraser, accompanied by Miss L. Chappell, vocal solos; George Kerr, accompanied by Miss M. Chardon, violin solo; Miss D. Chappell, piano solo, and selections by the Upton quartet, composed of J. E. Upton, F. A. Beebe, Roy Upton and Jean Upton. Refreshments were then served and dancing to the Arcadian's dance band finished off another enjoyable Elks' affair.

BLAKE - VAUGHN

The marriage of Miss Audrey May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vaughn, of Blairmore, to Mr. Arthur David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blake, also of Blairmore, took place at Pincher Creek United church on Saturday afternoon last, Rev. N. W. Whitmore officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of Bermuda blue crepe with brilliant and headed trimmings, and carried a bouquet of opelia roses and lilies. After a short honeymoon, the young couple have taken up residence in West Blairmore.

GENTILE - HOUBREGS

At St. Augustin's chapel, Lethbridge, a quiet wedding took place on Saturday last, when Miss Florentine Marie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Houbregs, of Blairmore, formerly of Belgium, became the bride of Angelo Paul Gentile, of Coleman, formerly of Italy.

They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Minnie Houbregs, and Mr. B. J. Gentile, brother of the groom. Rev. P. C. Wade officiated. The young couple will take up residence in Coleman.

W. J. BARTLETT, PUBLISHER

Blairmore, Alta., Thur., Nov. 29, 1934

THANKS, BROTHER!

A man, of whom we thought better, intimated that if we did not support a certain group who were trying to foster labor troubles, they would institute a boycott. He was promptly told to go ahead, for we would enjoy fighting such an outfit, rather than pay serious attention to such threats. In Blairmore, the town council and school board have demonstrated their spleen against the local newspaper by boycotting a business which for years had paid taxes, supported all appeals for donations to local organizations and done far more than those, who would, if they could, dictate to the citizens whom they should support. One beneficial result recorded by Editor Bartlett is that he added 43 new cash subscribers to his list of late. And how he does create an occasional smile by taking a crack at the enemy! (Go to it, "Bart.")—Coleman Journal.

ACTIONS BLAIRMORE SCHOOL BOARD AROUSES PROTEST

The declaring of a school holiday by Blairmore trustees in observance of the Russian revolution has aroused widespread protests in the press and from various organizations.

Victoria Avenue, the main thoroughfare of Blairmore, has been renamed (but not officially, as far as Edmonton is aware) by a Red council, Tim Buck avenue. What an insult!

Canadian citizens have been subjected to indignities unparalleled in a supposedly democratic and liberty-loving community. Well might people throughout the province and the Dominion wonder why such conditions should prevail.

The only answer is that a majority of the ratepayers voted for a council and school board avowedly anti-British, dominated by a Communist agitator who has not one vestige of vested interest in the Crows' Nest Pass. People living outside of Blairmore are perplexed, not knowing the cosmopolitan nature of its population and how susceptible it is to irresponsible leadership.

It is amazing that such things should happen, and it is high time that the people of Blairmore, who prize Canadian ideals of citizenship, assert themselves and redeem the good name of their town in the eyes of the rest of Canada. It can be done—not by a milk and water attitude, but by showing they are possessed of sufficient spirit to uphold the principles of Canadian citizenship against the encroachments of a clique who would meet a speedy termination to similar activities were they to practice them in the country they hold up as a pattern to the people of Blairmore.—Coleman Journal.

Ralph Samuels went to Heaven accompanied by Jack Cameron. Living conditions were found to be very crowded. Accordingly, St. Peter ordered them back to earth for another five years. Both men protested that their heirs had claimed their estates and they had nothing to live on. "Then I'll give you all you want," said St. Peter, "How much?" Jack figured it out very carefully: "Well, I canna do on a bit less than a hundred thousand dollars." St. Peter gave it to him, and turned to Ralph. "How much?" Samuels looked after Cameron. "Never mind. You just give me his name and address."—The Gateway.

25 DAYS to CHRISTMAS

FESTIVAL EXECUTIVE HOLD MEETING

The executive and finance committees of the musical festival met in the Greenhill hotel Monday evening, the following being present: Miss M. Powell, Miss M. Chardon, L. L. Morgan, W. Kerr, J. E. Upton, Mayor Pattinson, W. H. Moser, W. H. Chappell, H. T. Halliwell, president, and Mrs. J. H. Farmer, secretary.

The interim financial report was submitted, indicating a slight increase over the revenue of last year in the admission receipts, and a comprehensive comparative statement for the past six years was submitted by Mr. Chappell, who had supervised the box office sales for many years.

Mrs. Farmer, secretary, reported an increase in entry fees of $108.50 as against $84.00 in 1933.

Owing to various economies effected during the past two years, the festival still shows a surplus, and the complete financial statement will be presented to the annual general meeting on Monday, Dec. 3, in the Greenhill hotel at 8 p.m., notice of which has been sent to all members and subscribers.

The president, H. T. Halliwell, thanked the various committees for their faithful attendance to the various details, and stated that though elected at president a year ago, the time had passed very quickly. Having filled the office for one year in accordance with the plan initiated at the last annual meeting of alternating the presidency between the various Pass towns, he felt from experience it was a good move, as it served to quicken the interest of executive members, and he had enjoyed the work, feeling that the time necessitated in attending to the duties was spent in a very useful way.

Mayor Pattinson proposed that in connection with the festival, an oratory and elocution contest be arranged, to be held the day before the opening of the festival. He suggested this be held in Coleman, and undertook to write to Inspector Williams, of Lethbridge school inspectors, for information to place before the annual meeting on Monday next.

Various members of the executive expressed opinions on various proposals with a view to increasing the usefulness of the festival, and Mr. Morgan paid a tribute to the music teachers for their good work in promoting musical education among the young people.

The Pincher Creek Echo recently received a check from the town council for printing to the extent of $5.75. Pincher Creek is a white man's town, and that amount is more than The Enterprise has received from our city fathers in the last year. And we have to pay more taxes than those of all members of the council combined. Of course we do not blame the council as a whole, but know of its sufferings through a dictatorship. Anyhow, we are not suffering at all, and in fact are enjoying a period of prosperity brought about by determined opposition.

DEATH OF H. WILTON CLARK

Coleman, Nov. 27.—Death came to a bright and promising young life in the person of Hubert Wilton Clark at St. Michael's hospital on Friday morning last, in his 28th year, while undergoing an operation for an old injury in the leg. The intimation of his sudden passing came in a message from the hospital at Lethbridge to Rev. Father Dunbar, who was asked to convey the sad news to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Clark, and his brother, Harry, mining engineer.

Mr. Clark, senior, was on duty at the mine office of the International at the time, and his brother Harry was in the Maple Leaf mine just east of Bellevue, so that the news came as a bolt from the blue.

Hubert attended public and high schools here before entering the service of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, first at Coleman, then Hanna and Gleichen, and had for the past few years been teller at Taber branch. He was well-known among the younger people here, making frequent visits upon his holidays. He was born in Birmingham, Eng., coming to Coleman with his parents when quite young.

On the 1:10 train Sunday morning, after a brief service at the home, it was followed by many friends to St. Alban's Anglican church, the service being held at 3 p.m., with the Rev. A. S. Partridge, B.A., conducting.

The simple, but impressive burial service of the Church of England, was read, and the hymns "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Lead Kindly Light" and the closing hymn, "Abide With Me," were sung. The church was filled long before the funeral cortege arrived, many standing outside during the service.

The graveside service was attended by a large number of friends from the district, together with a number of Hubert's friends from Taber and Lethbridge, and a large bank of beautiful wreaths bore testimony to the many expressions of sympathy received by the family.

The pall-bearers were W. L. Rippon, F. G. Creegan, and Mr. Fisking (Taber) of the Bank of Commerce; R. Shone, Frank H. Graham and John McDonald, friends of boyhood days. Friends from Taber who motored to Coleman for the service included Robert Paterson, R. Paterson, Jr., Walter Miller, Nick Karras, Bob Anderson, Jr., Gus Bonetto, Len Haworth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marshall, Miss L. Harris, Mr. Picking, J. M. Wright, Miss Vasselanak, Dr. and Mrs. Brown. From Lethbridge—Mr. and Mrs. Ted Prendergast, Steve Vasselanak, Miss Florence Stubbert.

Among the large number of messages of sympathy was one from the superintendent of the Bank of Commerce, expressing his regret and sympathy.

According to Dr. Brown, of Taber, a close friend of the deceased, while under the anæsthetic, his heart ceased to function, without any warning; and despite all that the surgeons did to revive him, their efforts were unavailing. A small piece of loose bone in the knee joint had caused him some pain of late, and the X-ray examination indicated that it would not be a difficult matter to remove it. He left Taber that morning, accompanied by Dr. Brown, and about 11 a.m. was placed on the operating table. It was while the operation was in progress that he passed away. He was enjoying perfect health, and the only explanation that can be arrived at is that a blood clot may have been released in the operation which reacted on the heart.

Arthur Decoux met with an accident in the Blairmore mine last week end, which cost him the loss of at least two toes. He was removed to the local hospital for treatment and was transferred to his home on Sunday, making good recovery.

The "Varsity" rink at Edmonton, in which Blairmore senior hockeyists played to a record house for amateur hockey a few years ago, and in which three-game campaign they succeeded in downing the famous Edmonton Superiors, was officially opened for this season on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage last week. We remember when Mr. and Mrs. Smith arrived in Blairmore following the great event, when we, with others, had the privilege of being catered to at a dining room operated by Miss Annie Smith, now married and residing in the neighborhood of Wainwright.

We understand that the Blairmore Hardware Company are to move within the next few days to the premises immediately west and adjoining the Safeway store, and that the insurance agency office of Mr. C. J. Tompkins, Sun Life, is moving upstairs, immediately overhead. Here's bespeaking, both for the Hardware Company and Mr. Tompkins, added success in their new quarters.

Bright Stories about Wine

WATER DOES NOT MIX WELL WITH WINE

● The Greeks, whose reputation for wisdom, sometimes mis-named cunning, survives to this day, were less sensual than the Romans and generally avoided intoxication. They liked wine but they did not like to find themselves incapacitated by indulgence from doing business. Therefore, they sought to eat their cake and have it by the expedient of mixing water with their wines.

● As a matter of fact, Greek wines had the peculiar and loathsome quality of being rather low in the ingredients that would produce intoxication, and extremely high and heady in the qualities that would produce regrets the next day. In modern times the idea of reducing the quality of wine by adding water is regarded with disfavor. It is like putting ice in beer.

● Adulteration is quite a different thing, as we shall explain later when dealing with modern wines. Adulteration, too, is a word that bears different connotations. We shall find that it is called, in some cases, sophistication; in others, fortification. It deserves its sinister significance only when the purpose is to deceive the consumer, but, as a matter of historic fact, it has been generally done to suit his taste.

● There never was a time within the bounds of recorded history when every drinker of wine grew his own grapes. When we first encounter the word "wine" in history, we find it was produced better in some districts than others, and presumably by some grapes than others. Perhaps men became vintners quite as early as they became carpenters or priests or doctors, or otherwise specialists. Those who made wine, like those who raised goats or horses, had their fairs, at which, after samples had been considered, orders were given either for stocks in hand or stocks to be later produced.

● The ancient wine market has been identified by some scholars as the progenitor of the modern "free lunch." The prospective purchaser, as he went from one to another sample, to decide from which he would lay in his winter supply, found himself cozened with cheeses and spiced nuts temptingly displayed. Naturally he would eat a piece of cheese and half-a-dozen nuts and thus his natural palate would be blunted, and, when he came to the vital business of sampling the wine, he would be in no proper critical condition.

● Our own opinion is that the modern free lunch, where it survives, is not put forward as a disguise to defective drinks, but as a kind of bonus. We remember the time when a man who had fifteen cents for three glasses of beer could live sumptuously. He could have three good meals a day as a kind of four beers. One of these meals to-day would cost the best part of a dollar.

"BONNIE PRINCE CHARLIE"

Much interest is being shown in the forthcoming engagement at the Community Hall, Coleman, Tuesday evening, December 4th, of the Scottish Musical Players, who will present for their coming engagement "a tuneful romance in two acts, 'Bonnie Prince Charlie'." This ballad-studded narration of the most romantic episode in modern history simply effectiveness with love, intrigue and adventure. Surely, that episode—which cold record calls the "Stuart Rebellion of 1745"—deserves a superlative, with Charles Edward, young and ardent and handsome, leading thousands of kilted clansmen, armed with dirk and claymore, against Dutcher Cumberland. Charles Edward, and his clansmen survive far more gloriously than Cumberland, the victor, for their immortality is in song. The Community Hall stage will glow with tartan and the atmosphere of the theatre, more so, with the matchless songs, now two centuries old, in which the Highlands sang the story of the hopes and heartaches of their beloved Prince. Most of the familiar Jacobite songs will be sung, beginning with "Cam Ye by Athol?", and ending with "Will Ye no come back again?". As to comedy and drama, much will be supplied by William T. Wilson, the comedian, who by the way, is responsible for the story in play form. All of last year's favorites, including T. McAllister Wallace, Mary McMahon, Randolph Salmons, Anne Forsyth, the dainty dancer and piper, who by the way is a real dramatic part in "Bonnie Prince Charlie" will be seen and heard in this most absorbing episode, which possibly is the greatest in all Scotland's history. The newcomer to the company this year is Douglas Gordon, who is endowed, by nature, with a rich baritone voice. Mr. Gordon has the part of "Ronald Cameron". Mail orders are now being received by H. T. Halliwell of the "Journal", Coleman, and the regular and advance sale of tickets has already opened at J. M. Allan's, Phone 22.

W. E. G. Hall, formerly surveyor at the McGillivray mine, Coleman, and who has since 1928 been at Midlandville, Alberta, has arrived in The Pass to take over the duties as district mines inspector, succeeding the late Moses Johnson, who died while carrying out his duties at the International mine during the recent fire outbreak. It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Hall will make their home at Coleman.

The Enterprise Christmas Number (not a Red document in any way) will appear as usual this year, but in more interesting and much larger form. Business people of the whole Pass district, as well as other parts of Alberta and southeastern British Columbia, always look forward to this opportunity of extending greetings, and appreciate a properly printed souvenir.

Fred Palmer returned last Friday after an enjoyable trip to his old home in Minnesota, visiting relatives and old friends. He came back greatly revived in spirit, for in his opinion economic conditions in the States are worse than in Canada. The four million young men in the government labor camps are under military training and discipline and the people are inclined to be suspicious of this move. His trip was marred by the accidental death of his nineteen-year-old niece, who was instantly killed when the car she was driving overturned in the ditch.—Clareholm Local Press.

STEADY PROGRESS

During the last year or more no publication has shown more remarkable strides in the matter of increased circulation than has the Family Herald and Weekly Star. This is not strange, for it is evident that in times of stress people are prone to cut down on the number and variety of magazines and papers coming into their home, and they find in the Family Herald and Weekly Star a paper which, at $1.00 per year, gives them every variety of reading, for old and young, all combined in this one publication.

Every issue overflows with practical farming ideas, up-to-the-minute articles, short stories, together with a weekly newspaper section which rounds out a feast of reading without compare. Truly it has been well said that the Family Herald and Weekly Star is the best for the least. And you can secure it for a year by adding only 40 cents to a year's subscription to The Enterprise.

SCOTTISH SINGERS

VISIT ST. JOSEPH'S

Miss Mary McMahon and Mr. Randolph Salmons, leading lady and leading man of "The Scottish Musical Players," were the guest soloists at the nine o'clock mass in St. Joseph's College Chapel on Sunday, Nov. 25. Mr. Salmons at the beginning of the mass sang Liddle's "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," which was followed by a very lovely and touching duet, "Mother Dear, Oh Pray For Me," sung by Miss McMahon and Mr. Salmons. Later in the service Miss McMahon charmed the congregation with the very beautiful "Agnus Dei" by Bizet.

Among the congregation who heard these beautiful singers, beside the students of St. Joseph's College, were Miss Dodd, Dean of Women at the University of Alberta; Mrs. F. J. Conroy, President of the Catholic Women's League, and other officers and members of that organization.

After mass the guests and students adjourned to the dining hall, where breakfast was served.

Brother Memoriam expressed his sincere thanks to these distinguished singers who have just completed another successful engagement in Edmonton, and who so kindly consented to sing at St. Joseph's on this occasion.

Mr. Ed. McCormick, chairman of the House Committee, in very choice language, expressed his and the students' gratitude to Miss McMahon and Mr. Salmons for the very lovely singing which they had rendered during the service, and for the honor of having had them attend the Sunday morning mass at St. Joseph's—The Gateway, Edmonton.

On Monday morning a local Chinaman remarked, quite excitedly: "What's a malla, King Tutt big-way no open all ledly? Him clock money longa time, an' me wonda where she's go—maybe she's go to Lusia all ledly!"

Rev. T. T. Faichney has announced his resignation as pastor of Wesley United church, Calgary, to take effect in June, 1935. He purposes returning to the Church of Scotland.

By their decision to evacuate from the Foothills league in favor of the Pass body, the local Maple Leaf standard-bearers will be compelled to relinquish their claim to the Lethbridge Brewery cup and the Foothills championship which they snared last season. However, the Pass teams will be far greater drawing cards in Lethbridge than anything the Wheat Belt has to offer. The teams from the vicinity of the Crow can positively be assured of a vociferous welcome when they appear in Lethbridge.—Lathbridge Herald.

The Scottish Musical Players, on their journey across Canada this year, will also include besides the principal cities and towns in the Canadian north west, a trip down to Los Angeles and San Francisco. Extended engagements will be played by this now famous company of actor-singers in Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, Oregon, and San Francisco and Los Angeles. Late in the spring, they will open a month's engagement at the Studebaker Theatre, Chicago, where, within the month, they will present their entire repertoire of six distinctively different plays with music. Strange as it may seem, Quebec city welcomed, with unusual delight and acclaim, quite recently, the Scottish Musical Players. Well might they do so, for the reason, that no cleverer group of vocalists have appeared in any Canadian city. All the favorites of last year will be welcomed again on Tuesday evening, December 4th, at Coleman.

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE R. RODNEY

Author of "The Coronado Trail," "The Canyon Trail," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Four-Glance Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward wilderness outfit.

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector, is now returning to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men hustling four-glass cattle and protests against it.

Joe Carr's daughter, Edith, repulses Dustin when he wished to make her acquaintance, saying when she walked with a man, it would not be with a squaw man. He plans revenge, but has had no opportunity so far. Affairs on the ranch going from bad to worse, Joe Carr takes to drink.

(Now Go On With The Story)

Spike gaped at him. Then very slowly realization came. His eyes gleamed and his red face got redder and his wife-strife beard seemed to bristle like the mane of an angry bound.

"You know how those damned old fools of prospectors talk. They matters worse old Kane can square himself with Joe Carr by lettin' him in on what he found on the Hour-glance land. See now?"

never see any one to talk to in six months. When they do get a chance

the dam gives way and there's a flood. If old Dad Kane goes in to Seco he'll tell about his gold-fund just as sure as God made him. He can't help it. The matter of Gray and Corse is bound to come out. . . . Still Spike stared at him. The full import of what Dustin said had not yet sunk in.

"They'll hardly dare tell what they done," he growled. "I'll mean jail for them, too."

"They'll turn State's evidence and get exemption. That's the way Burke, the Prosecutorial Attorney, wins his cases. You poor fool! Can't you see? You'll look good in a striped suit. . . . If it gets that far."

"What do you mean by that? 'If it gets that far'?"

"'Huh. That's easy. We're none too popular in the Valley. There ain't a Dry Farmer in thirty miles that don't want our holdin's. If we went that suit over Soda Springs they'd throw 'em on public lands. They'll be open to all the Dry Farmers. They can water their sheep there, too. That'll ruin 'em for cattle. Even you know that. . . ."

Spike nodded at that truth; the real reason for the constant feud between sheep and cattle-men.

"It'll make no difference to you an' me," said Dustin hotly. "We'll be tucked away where nobody can hurt us. . . . I tell you. . . . We're in a hell of a mess. Old Dad Kane know now just what our men have been doin'. Those men will swear, to clear themselves, that they were only carryin' out orders from us. I'll all come out. . . . To make Spike Goddard licked his lips in silence and stared at his partner with a feral glare that promised ill to his enemy. He was not a particularly strong man but like most men of his kind, when driven to bay he could fight desperately.

"Well," he croaked, "what's the answer?"

"That was exactly what Sam Dustin proposed to do. He knew that the consciousness suit over Soda Springs had cost Carr more than he had. He knew that the Broken Spur depredations on the herds of the Hour-glance had put that ranch in the red. He was sure that Joe Carr must owe a lot of money and he meant to find out to whom he owed it. Dustin believed in the strong hand and he knew that Solomon was right when he said: 'The borrower is servant to the lender.' It was dark when he patted his cap before the steel-fronted saloon in Seco. He strode down the main street, turned off at a dark alley and stopped at a little frame bungalow set well back in a clump of dusty Chinaberry trees. The door flew open at his knock and, almost instantly, an old woman holding a stinking kerosene lamp showed her head, stood facing him.

"Evenin', Miss Peters," he said civilly enough. "Sim in?"

"He went for the mail," said Mrs. Peters. "He ought to be back in five minutes. Come in, Miss! Dustin. There comes Sim now," she added.

Expert Skin Grafting

London Surgeon Describes Remarkable Results That Can Be Attained

A method of detouring living skin from one part of the body to another to improve plastic surgery was described to the American College of Surgeons at Boston by Sir Harold Gillies, London surgeon.

The detouring of skin is one of the latest bits of skill. By its use skin, without even losing its living connection with the patient's own blood supply, can be taken from virtually any part of the body, even the back, and transferred anywhere else.

By this method skin has been taken from the outside of the body and deoured to interior cavities to save life.

The detour trip across or lengthwise of the body takes six to nine weeks. The method is known to surgeons as the tubed pedicle flap. The "flap" looks like the handle of a valve.

For detouring abdominal skin to the face, a square section of abdominal skin is first loosened along two opposite sides, lifted and rolled into the form of a valve handle.

This handle of flap remains fully alive nourished by blood vessels at each end, until it gets accustomed to its semi-independent form of life.

Next one end of the flap is cut free and placed to the forehead, which can be grafted to the abdomen. After a period of several weeks the skin gets accustomed to this change.

Then the flap handle is detached from the abdomen, but left fastened to the forehead. The forehead is then raised and over the whole atmosphere such as over-eating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance.

The flap's free end is grafted in place on the face. Then finally it is detached from the forehead and the grafting completed on the face.

Sir Harold explained this makes it possible to transfer living skin which contains not only the thin surface but underlying fat and blood vessels.

COLUMBUS

To-day the sailor goes on ways as sure as the sun rises in the east.

For him the sea has lost that old allure.

Which once to brave hearts called through wind and foam.

The tang of danger mingled with the scent of tar and salt in days Columbus sailed.

Out ways unknown to find a continent. Beyond those deeps at which the boldist quailed.

Ah! When was ever man as brave as he.

Who ventured with his flimsy caravel from the coast of Europe a sea.

Whose outer verge no soul on earth could tell?

For him, to meet those weeks of awful test;

For him, to tread on glory's postmost crest!

Builds Model Engines

Minatures Turned Out By Halifax Engraver Work Perfectly

A tiny but practical model of an overtype, 16 nominal horsepower engine, with loose eccentric piston valves will be exhibited by its maker, David Briggs, Halifax engraver, at the Nova Scotia provincial exhibition. The small but powerful contraption turns a model aeroplane swing, and three tumblers of water in the wee boiler will keep it going for over an hour.

There are more than a thousand intricate parts of steel, copper and brass but it only took the miniature machinist three months to put them together. Mr. Briggs, whose hobby is mechanical models, has also constructed a working reproduction of the mechanism of a paddle-wheel ferry steamer which will fit in a suitcase and engaged his spare time for 17 months; a tug boat engine; and a larger overtype engine which will generate power for 120 minutes.

Something To Know

If you want to revive wilted lettuce or other salad greens, put them in a pan of ice water to which has been added a cupful of vinegar. Let them set for half an hour and they'll be quite crisp. Incidentally, if you wilt lettuce in a damp towel and stick the ends of the towel in a dish of water, it will keep fresh for days.

Free Samples at Druggists of the Remarkable New Aid in the Prevention of Colds

Local Druggists Are Now Offering A Free Trial Of Vicks Vapo-nol For Nose and Throat—Also Of Its Ideal Companion, Vicks VapoRub

NEW PREVENTION IDEA

This Discovery Introduces Unique Vicks Plan For Better Colds-Control

HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS

Following years of research on the problem of colds, Vicks Chemists have developed a new aid in preventing colds—Vicks Vapo-nol, for nose and throat. This new Vicks preparation is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds.

These two Vicks preparations, together with a few simple rules of health, form the unique Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. The helpfulness of the Plan is reduced to number and duration of colds has been clinically tested by physicians. (Full details of the Plan are in each package of Vicks Vapo-nol and of Vicks VapoRub.)

Especially, here is how Vicks Plan works:

To Help Prevent Colds

Watch yourself and children after exposure to any condition that you know is apt to be followed by a cold, such as—

Contaminated air with having fresh colds—crowds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—sudden changes in temperature—in the house, such as over-eating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance.

Then—at the slightest irritation in the nasal passages, where most colds start—use Vicks Vapo-nol at once. Just a few drops up each nostril. Repeat every hour or so if needed. Vapo-nol aids Nature's functions—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off colds in their early stages. Used in time, Vapo-nol aids in preventing many colds.

To Help Shorten a Cold

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub well over throat and chest at bedtime. Through the night, VapoRub attacks the cold direct—two ways at once—by stimulation, direct through the skin, like a poultice or plaster—and by inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to the inflamed air-passages. This long-continued double action loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, eases difficult breathing, and helps break congestion.

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Vapo-nol every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment without the risks of constant internal dosing, which so often upsets the digestion—especially of children.

Trials Packages Free

Your druggist has free combination packages containing trial sizes of Vapo-nol and VapoRub—also folder telling how these twin aids to fewer colds and shorter colds are used in Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Ask for yours today, as your druggist's supply is limited.

New Industry

Plant For Production Of Sodium Sulphate May Come To Saskatchewan

Establishment of a new industry in Saskatchewan, believed to be for the production of sodium sulphate, is being contemplated by a firm of manufacturing chemists with head office in New Jersey, and branch offices in Montreal and Toronto.

Government officials received a communication recently from officials of the firm asking for detailed information concerning labor and coal costs, and other particulars.

The location of the plant, according to the letter, would be in southern Saskatchewan, near the United States border, some 12 miles from the nearest railway.

BRITAIN TO SET UP INQUIRY INTO ARMS TRAFFIC

London.—The British government intends to set up an inquiry into the subject of traffic in arms. It was learned authoritatively but unofficially.

The exact form the inquiry will take has not yet been determined, but it is not proposed any ministers shall be members of the tribunal.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, indicated to the House of Commons that an inquiry into the subject along certain lines would be regarded favorably. He did not, however, say the investigation had been decided upon.

Sir John told the house the government would oppose any "fishing inquiry" dealing with rumors concerning conduct of the arms trade but said an inquiry which studied the proposal of a state monopoly from the viewpoint of national security and the like was "a very different thing."

The foreign secretary outlined the points which the hearing should cover, giving the impression he would favor such an investigation.

Sir John insisted Britain still is strongly in favor of arms control, citing her prompt ratification of the arms traffic convention of 1925 which, he said, "remains-ratified" as far as Britain is concerned.

Increase French Army

Longer Period Of Compulsory Military Service Is Suggested

Paris.—A longer period of compulsory military service for French citizens to increase the size of the French army as an answer to the new German "challenge" was believed to be imminent in government circles.

Earlier, the finance committee of the chamber of deputies had given the government virtually free rein for military expenditures by approving "all appropriations judged necessary by the government for defence of the country."

Predictions of an increase in the terms of service of conscripts grew out of Premier Pierre Laval's failure to secure a number of deputies delegation that the service period would remain at 12 months. This was taken by the Radical Socialists as confirmation of reports that the conscript term would be lengthened in accordance with the general staff's wishes.

Germany's Planes Swifter

So France Wants Huge Sum To Build Better Machines

Paris.—Minister of Air Victor Denain told France that Germany's planes are "swifter and more modern and asked 3,500,000 francs (about $230,000,000) to make the French air force superior.

"Since Goering (Herman Wilhelm Goering, Adolf Hitler's minister of air) came to power, Germany has a military air fleet available and proclaims it," Denain told the chamber air committee.

"This air force is to be feared because it is composed of modern pursuit and bombing planes," he said.

Protesting against "panic fomenters" who pretend Germany has thousands of military planes, the air minister estimated that the Reich will have 1,000 to 1,500 planes at the beginning of 1935.

France has more machines, he admitted, but the French models "are less swift and less modern."

Dairy Council Backs Plan

Would Have All Butter Holders Declare Their Stocks

Toronto.—The National Dairy Council meeting here endorsed a plan designed to improve the Canadian butter situation by calling on all butter holders to declare their stocks. Approval of 50 per cent of the holders will be necessary to put the scheme in effect.

The plan will be directed by a board of five members to serve without salary until May, 1935. The board will be authorized to grant right of export of butter through the holders' agencies or to collect small stocks itself. It may make a levy on any excess of imports for distribution among exporters.

Robert Barber, of Yorkton, Sask. told the council the western butter producer saw no reason why he should be "pauperized" to help Ontario and Quebec cheesemakers.

W. N. U. 1974

Opponents Will Be Heard

Poultry Pool Objectors To Come Before Marketing Board

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion marketing board has announced that the second week of December will be set aside for the hearing of representations of those who are opposed to the poultry schemes sponsored by the three prairie poultry pools.

The board has received many petitions from the west opposing the schemes and several organizations have written seeking an opportunity to appear before the board. Every opportunity will be given to these organizations. The actual dates for hearings have not yet been fixed, but it is believed that one week will enable all those opposed to the schemes to be heard.

Meantime, the board is making little headway with other schemes. The butter proposal advanced by the National Dairy Council is being held in abeyance pending the outcome of a conference to be held this week at Toronto. It is believed that this scheme is rapidly losing favor—in official quarters and its chances of being approved by the board are regarded as doubtful.

The livestock scheme proposed by the Saskatchewan Livestock Co-operative is still at the preliminary stage. The board has not yet come to grips with it.

Self Rule For India

Federal System Is Advocated By Select Committee

London.—An all-India federation comprised of self-governing units was advocated in the long-awaited report of the select joint parliamentary committee on Indian reform.

The report urges this system be substituted for the present centralized government. Eleven provinces of British India, two of them new, would be linked in the federal system with the native Indian states, which would enter the federation by voluntary act of their rulers.

These recommendations, in the main follow the proposals laid down in the governmental white paper of last year for reform of Indian government in the direction of granting self-rule "with safeguards," in other words still reserving control over vital questions of defence, external relations, and the like, to the viceroy and through him the British government, while extending internal self-government to the new legislatures.

New Relief Policy

Ontario Minister Of Welfare Would Place Single Men In Private Homes

Toronto.—Hon. David A. Croft, Ontario minister of welfare and municipal affairs, announced a new relief policy affecting single men. Under this plan municipalities will be encouraged to place single unemployed in private homes.

"Home, not hospital—that is what we are aiming at," said the minister in announcing a plan whereby municipal authorities may pay for lodgings in private homes at a rate not exceeding $1 per week and supply food by voucher at the prevailing rate. If such a policy is adopted locally the province will pay its share of the cost, the minister said.

"That is our idea of the first step towards re-establishment of the individual. Let him get away from the barracks-like atmosphere of the hotel and return to a normal domestic existence," Mr. Croft stated.

Drug To Lengthen Life

Claim It Increases Resistance To Disease And Reduces Worry

Cleveland, O.—Human life can be lengthened, at least a little, by use of a drug that is claimed to reduce worry and increase resistance to disease, Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft of Cornell University predicted before the National Academy of Sciences.

He has not tried it on humans yet, but based his predictions on preliminary tests on rabbits and chickens. The drug is sodium rhodanate, used in other experiments by Dr. Bancroft to treat drug addicts.

Belgrade, Yugo-Slavia.—Dowager Queen Marie of Roumania hopes to visit North America again some time soon, taking her grandson, young King Peter of Yugo-Slavia, with her. From there she hopes to continue on around the world.

Dutch Aviators Return

Amsterdam.—K. D. Parmentier and J. J. M. Dutch aviators who won the recent handicap air race from London to Melbourne, landed their transport plane here recently to the cheers of 50,000 persons.

Dairy Surplus

Plan To Be Sent To Dairy Organizations To Reduce Over Supply

Toronto.—A plan to reduce dairy surplus, submitted by the producers' board of the National Dairy Council, will be sent to the provincial dairy organizations, it was decided at the closing meeting of the council's convention here.

The resolution adopted empowered a board of producers to levy against the dairy men with the object of building up a fund to be used for the promotion of the industry in domestic and export markets. T. E. Love of Edmonton, and P. O. Colquhoun of Maple Creek, Sask., vice-president of the council, proposed the scheme be forwarded to the provincial bodies.

NO INCREASE IN WHEAT DEMAND IS ANTICIPATED

Budapest.—The international wheat commission struck at the nationalistic policies of wheat importing countries in a strongly-worded statement on the world grain situation.

The statement painted a gloomy picture for exporting countries for at least two more years, predicting the annual world demand for exported wheat would remain at 600,000,000 bushels until at least August, 1936.

Concerning the demands of importing countries, the commission said "until there is a fundamental change in the wheat policy of importing countries there is no prospect of a considerable increase in demand for wheat unless yield per acre proved to be of low average."

Owing to the present policy of some important countries of protecting—almost regardless of cost—their wheat growers against foreign competition and a sharp upward trend of unit yields, the commission's statement continued, "there seems to be no good reason for anticipating in the next few years an annual European demand for imported wheat in excess of 450,000,000 bushels."

"As a result of Japan's policy to become self-sufficing in wheat," the statement said, "and of the great expansion of wheat growing in several European countries, it is impossible the annual imports of European countries will in the near future be more than about 150,000,000 bushels."

"The world demand for imported wheat in recent years has declined 20 to 25 per cent below what was looked upon as normal prior to 1932. "As both the trend of population growth and that of per capita consumption of wheat are declining in many countries, it is clear that any appreciable increase in world demand is largely dependent upon a reversal of the trend of wheat production in importing countries."

The commission also took to task optimists who forecast improvement because of droughts, so that "during August suggestions were made that the effect of widespread drought would be to convert the position of over-production to one of relative scarcity, and that as a result a substantial rise in wheat prices might be anticipated."

FARM CLUBS SECRETARY

Here is a photograph of A. E. McLaurin, who, as General Secretary of the Canadian Boys and Girls Farm Clubs, is largely responsible for the successful results obtained in this junior club work throughout the Dominion. Thirty-two club teams, representing all of the Provinces of the Dominion, competed in several livestock and field crop judging contests at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Urges Building Program

Could Be Handled As Government Policy Says Stevens

Ottawa.—With the declaration that during the next few years Canada "could wisely and economically spend over a billion dollars in housing and commercial construction works," Hon. H. H. Stevens, former minister of trade and commerce, went on record as favoring a great building program for the Dominion.

Characterizing the government's $400,000,000 building program as "a mere drop in the bucket," Mr. Stevens advocated calling a conference of bankers, loan and mortgage companies and insurance companies, with a view to evolving a plan for financing his huge construction proposal.

"If they fail to act promptly," he added, "then in my opinion the government of Canada ought to take the matter in hand as a government policy."

The former minister and chairman of the mass buying committee was guest speaker at a banquet of the Ottawa Junior board of trade.

Vessels Collide In Fog

Four Lose Lives In Accident On Great Lakes

Alpena, Mich.—Four members of the crew of the steamer W. C. Franz were lost in a collision in heavy fog, 30 miles south by east of Thunder Bay Island, Lake Huron, between the Franz and the Edward E. Loomis.

A message from the steamer Reiss Brothers, standing by, verified by O. K. Falor, operator of a radio station at Rogers City, said the Franz sank and that 14 survivors of its crew had been taken aboard the Loomis, which was proceeding south under its own power, with considerable water in its forward hold.

The Franz had a crew of 18. Radio messages said the Loomis was badly damaged forward in the collision.

The Franz had delivered a cargo of wheat at Port Colborne, Ont., and was upbound for another load of grain.

Grasshopper Problem

North Dakota Conference Says Emergency Still Exists

Fargo, N.D.—The grasshopper problem was characterized as a national rather than a state problem by state entomologists attending the closing session of the second annual 'hopper conference here.

Experts from several northwest states and Canadian provinces adopted resolutions recommending an annual grasshopper egg survey by the federal government in co-operation with the various states and an adequate appropriation to the bureau of entomology for this purpose.

In other resolutions the group went on record as of the opinion that a grasshopper emergency still exists. Although various speakers said the pest danger had been reduced by poison campaigns and the drought, one resolution said "the grasshopper outlook for 1935 is most serious in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan."

Out Of The Market

United States Did Not Export Any Wheat Last Week

Washington.—For the first time since the west's fertile prairies were tilted with regularity, the United States last week failed to export a single bushel of wheat.

"The drought and steadily declining exports," was the explanation given by officials, who said they were not surprised at the department of commerce report.

Only a few years ago, 370,000,000 bushels of grain were sent out of United States in one year, and exports averaged around 150,000,000 annually up to 1929.

Since that time Canada and the Argentine have cut more and more into the market once held by the United States.

JAPAN CONTINUES ITS INSISTENCE ON NAVAL PARITY

London.—The outlook for the tri-power naval conversations became gloomier than ever, with a Japanese declaration that in the very likely event of failing to reach an agreement on tonnage limitation of navies she could not agree to limitation of specific types of vessels and their gunpower.

This was taken to mean that if a tri-power agreement on total naval tonnage is not reached, replacing the Washington treaty which Japan is going to denounce, then Japan is prepared to experiment with vessels she believes peculiarly suited to her needs.

The Japanese indeed made themselves very clear, removing a couple more misconceptions which made it plain the best the British and Americans can hope for, so far as tripartite agreement is concerned, is to salvage as much of the spirit of the Washington agreement. And there does not seem to be much that can be saved.

First, the Japanese denied the widely-accepted version of their demand for parity with the British and American fleets, to the effect that while insisting on being granted parity she would not actually build up to it. This was a complete misconception, Reuters was told by Ambassador Taneu Matsudaira.

"The actual position is that Japan, if accorded parity, might not need to build up to it in all categories," he said. "But she has certainly made no statement that she would not."

The other "misconception" the Japanese removed was a report they had declared themselves not averse to having a fleet inferior to the British, so long as the Japanese fleet was equal to the American. The Japanese emphatically declared they want full equality with both the British and the Americans. The inference is that it is not conceded by treaty, Japan will independently build up to it.

The statement that Japan cannot accept restriction of tonnage of various types of vessels and gunpower in the different classes, if there is no agreement on total tonnage, clearly heralded independent action unless she is granted parity, which is unlikely.

A Admiral Yamamoto, naval delegate, was responsible for the statement regarding refusal to accept qualitative restriction. The clarification of the Japanese position made more understandable the British move for an agreement with the United States in the hope of getting a multilateral naval pact to which the Japanese would be invited to join later.

TAKE FIRST STEPS TO PAVE WAY FOR DEBATE ON INDIA

London.—By a vote of 224 to 62 the House of Commons passed Premier Ramsay MacDonald's motion, taking away all private members' time during the new session of parliament for discussion of the report of the select committee on India and the subsequent government bill embodying its recommendations.

Prime Minister MacDonald said the India bill would contain 300 clauses and would undoubtedly take up the bulk of the government time. Debate on the report itself will be held before Christmas and second reading of the India bill, beginning committee stage, between Christmas and Easter. From Easter to the end of July the bulk of the house's time would be occupied with the bill.

An all-India federation comprised of self-governing units was advocated in the long-awaited report of the select parliamentary committee on Indian reform.

The report urges this system be substituted for the present centralized government. Eleven provinces of British India, two of them new, would be linked in the federal system with the native Indian states, which would enter the federation by voluntary act of their rulers.

These recommendations in the main follow the proposals laid down in the governmental white paper of last year for reform of Indian government in the direction of granting self-rule "with safeguards," in other words still reserving control over vital questions of defence, external relations, and the like, to the viceroy and through him the British government, while extending internal self-government to the new legislatures.

A chorus of disapproval from India came with publication of the report which showed the committee had tightened up the safeguards contemplated in the white paper's proposals, formulated by the National government, for the next step towards self-rule in the Indian empire.

But this was to be expected. So was a declaration from the Labor party that the report was not adequate, that India should be given the means to obtain Dominion status by her own progress instead of relying on future acts of parliament.

More interesting was the attitude the Conservative party here would take when it deliberates the report at a national convention next month.

A warm parliamentary battle was clearly foreshadowed in comments of politicians and newspapers. Violent hostility was expressed in two opposite quarters, by "die-hard" Tories and by radical sympathizers who favor self-rule for India. Between them was a large volume of moderate opinion which took a hopeful view.

Budget May Be Cut

But Manitoba Government Is Not Closing Government House

Winnipeg.—W. J. Tupper, newly-appointed Lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, will be sworn in here December 11, at the new government legislative buildings. He succeeds Hon. J. D. McGregor, lieutenant-governor since 1929.

Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, referring to rumors Government House might be closed, declared there might be reductions in the government budget for Government House. It was not the government's intention to close it, he said.

Government Buys Building

Old Industrial Building At Winnipeg Acquired From C.N.R.

Ottawa.—The Dominion government has purchased from the Canadian National Railways the old industrial building in Winnipeg adjacent to the railway terminal there, on the corner of Main and Water streets. The purchase price was $175,000. The industrial building will be razed and a seven-story department building will be erected in its place. It will be an office building, one floor of which will be rented to the railway to house its officials occupying the present structure.

Hydro Lineman Killed

Winnipeg.—Harry Harmer, 40, Winnipeg hydro lineman, is dead, instantly killed when he slipped while climbing a steel tower in the hope of getting a multi-lateral naval pact to which the Japanese would be invited to join later.
